LONDON, SEPTEMBER 6.— WHILE THE GERMANS WERE MAKING ATTACK AFTER ATTACK SOUTH OF THE SOMME LAST NIGHT, SEEKING TO RECOVER GROUND WON BY THE FRENCH IN THEIR LATEST ADVANCE, THE BRITISH STRUCK ANOTHER BLOW NORTH OF THE RIVER.

A London statement says all of Leuze Wood is now in possession of the British and fighting continues between the wood and Combles.

German infantry charged repeatedly south of the Somme between Denicourt and Berny, the Paris War Office announces, but the attacks were broken by the French fire.

In the Verdun sector, the Germans prepared an attack against Fleury, but a Paris communication says the French quick-firers prevented them from debouching.

Russian pressure is being maintained on the Austro-German lines in Volhynia and eastern Galicia, and violent fighting continues.

Petrograd announces 4,500 more prisoners have been taken along the lower Gorodenka river, southwest of Lemberg.

Accounts of the invasion of Dobrudja, the eastern portion of Roumania, are at variance.

An official Roumanian statement says the invaders have been checked and that the entire frontier in that section is in the hands of the Roumanians.

Recent German and Bulgarian statements have reported the capture of several Roumanian towns and the infliction of heavy losses on the Roumanians.

Berlin admits the loss of Clery, on the Somme near Peronne.

The German statement also says that the Teutonic troops have made additional gains in southeastern Roumania, but admits that the Russians have pressed forward in Galicia, pushing back the front of Archduke Charles along the Dneister and Lipa rivers.

New York, September 6.—A further slight increase in the infantile paralysis epidemic was shown in the Department of Health report today for the 24 hours ending at 10 o'clock this morning.

UNSATISFACTORY EARLY RETURNS

Primary Election Re- sults Still in Doubt

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, September 6.—Primary election results are still indefinite in the several states that voted yesterday, but early results indicate:

That Governor E. L. Phillips, Conservative Republican, won easily in Wisconsin over three opponents, and that Senator Robert La Follette received the re-nomination over M. G. Jefferis, Conservative Republican. There were no contests on the Democratic, Socialist and Prohibitionist tickets.

Idaho gave the Republican gubernatorial nomination to D. W. Davis. Democratic nominees were unopposed.

Henry W. Keyes appears to lead in the race for the Republican nomination for Governor in New Hampshire, and John C. Hutchins seems to have a safe lead for the Democratic nomination.

BRITISH LOSS IN TWO WEEKS

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, September 6.—Casualty lists for the first two weeks of August show that the British army lost 600 officers killed, 1,702 wounded and 204 missing, a total of 2,506.

Union Leaders Fore- cast Tie-Up of the Surface and Sub- way Lines Tomor- row.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, September 6.—Union leaders forecast a strike for two o'clock tomorrow morning which would tie up the subway and elevated lines of the Interborough Rapid Transit Lines, in the heart of the city.

The employees demand annulment of individual contracts binding many of them not to seek wage increases for two years.

Vote on the strike question will be taken up at meetings tonight.

The company has announced that it will not consent to arbitration.

Indications are that employees of other lines will join in the strike if it is called.

FAIR SEX IN ANNUAL MEETING

Forty-eighth Yearly Gathering Con- venes at Atlantic City—Notables At- tend.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Atlantic City, N. J., September 6.—The National American Woman Suffrage Association, opening its fortieth annual convention here today, will not, according to influential leaders, endorse or criticize, as an organization, any candidate now in the field for the office of President of the United States, because of the views he holds on the question of equal rights for women.

The forty-eighth annual convention of the Woman Suffrage Association opened here today with women present from all sections of the country.

Mayor Baughan welcomed the delegates. Reports of committees occupied most of the morning session.

One of the most important questions before the convention, whether to concentrate on federal or state campaigns or to continue to work for both, will be decided later in the day, when amendments to the constitution will be voted upon.

The presidential address of Mrs. Carrie Chapman-Catt is expected to be the feature of tomorrow's session. The convention will close Sunday afternoon.

The Association will decide to continue its fight for votes for women by working for both the federal amendment and state amendment, it was declared.

The opening session of the convention in the forenoon was confined to routine reports of offices.

Columbus Chamber of Commerce Seeks to Halt Purchase of the Wyandotte Building for Office Purposes.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., September 6.—Judge Rathmell of the Common Pleas Court today granted the Columbus Chamber of Commerce a temporary injunction restraining the State from purchasing the Wyandotte building for the use of the state offices.

The Columbus Chamber of Commerce, as a corporation, and tax payer, in its own name today filed an injunction proceeding in the Franklin county courts to restrain State Auditor Donahay from paying $225,000 for the purchase of the Wyandotte building, which is to be used to house state offices which cannot find room in the Capitol.

Today's suit substitutes the one brought through August Weiland several days ago. It was learned that Weiland was not a taxpayer.

A statement issued by the secretary of the Chamber declared that it is the judgment of the business men of Columbus, and, he believed, of the entire state, that the building is not large enough to properly satisfy the need for additional space, and that the State should construct a new building, properly located.

Attorney General Edward C. Turner immediately filed a demurrer to the new suit, alleging there is no ground for action. Briefs will be submitted and early action by the court is expected.

COMMISSION BEGINS WORK

Six Members of Joint American-Mexican Commission Hold Session.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New London, Conn., September 6.—The six members of the American-Mexican Joint Commission held their first formal session at the hotel in Groton today, with Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican membership, presiding.

The session was expected to be devoted to arranging details of the conference to follow.

The program will be laid out today, as far as it can be determined.

At the conclusion of the two hours' conference today, at which a preliminary schedule for the discussions was adopted, the commissioners adjourned until Friday.

CHARTER FORM OF GOVERNMENT URGED BY SOLONS

Xenia, like Washington, Chillicothe and a great many other Ohio cities, is seeking a charter government, and regarding the latest move in that city the Xenia Gazette says:

"As an indication of the fact that the 'city dads' of Xenia are not wedded to the present form of city government they adopted a resolution at the regular meeting of Council Friday night instructing City Solicitor Harry D. Smith to ascertain the various forms of commission government now in use in the country and make a report to council at an early date. The resolution also provides that the City Solicitor report how the city should proceed to adopt the commission form of government. Council man LeSoud presented the resolution and it was adopted by unanimous vote."

"Since the passage of the Smith one per cent law the city officials have had a tough struggle to keep the city's head above water and it is apparent from their Friday night action that they are ready and willing to try out some other form of government on the chance that it may prove less expensive. Other cities some of them much larger than Xenia have tried the commission form of government with success and it is the opinion of the members of city council that it would prove a success in Xenia. At any rate it is worthy of investigation and the city council is to be complimented upon bringing the matter to the attention of the public."

MEXICANS BUSY PRINTING MONEY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Mexico City, Sept. 6.—The destruction of the so-called Vera Cruz issue of Mexican currency and the issuance of the new paper money known as 'infalsificables' have made the government printing office one of the busiest spots in Mexico. The Vera Cruz bills, over $50,000,000 worth of which have been destroyed are cut into strips in a hydraulic press, transformed into pulp and made into cardboard and pastboard of which there is great scarcity. This product finds a ready sale and it is possible that the government may also destroy old documents to produce material for a government box factory in the near future.

Dawson, who had been a student of archaeology nearly all his life, found the skull in a gravel pit near Lewes. It is that of a prehistoric woman, and it is supposed by scientists to be the "missing link." The skull was said to be the most important fragment of human remains ever discovered.

Skepticism is a Disease That Has Many Angles, so Says Dr. Frederick Blankner, the Specialist, now at Arlington Hotel until Saturday, Sept. 8th.

A skeptical person surely has many mental twists. Skepticism closes the door of many opportunities and puts a ban on common sense, cripples reason, dethrones judgment, impedes progress and puts you in a class of an issuer. Skepticism and reason never joined hands and where you find a skeptical saturate you find a foggy, obsolete to the times and when opportunity has passed and you realize that you have lost out then you spread yourself in the lap of regret and chastise yourself for being such a fool. Any person with such an equipment does not amount to much either to themselves or any body else for they are stumble-mongers and a draw back to society and warts on civilization. This is the definition of one that never believes and will not believe even when shown. However these characters are few. Many people have cause to be skeptic and no one knows it better than the writer because for the past thirty years he has come in contact with people who have been fooled so many times that they have a good foundation on which to rest their skepticism and this is not the class of people referred to above. Nearly every one that meets Dr. Blankner in a heart to heart talk will tell him that so many times have they been fooled that confidence ceases to be a virtue. In the treatment of chronic diseases there are many complications and unless the physician can appreciate all the elements entering into the general cause of sickness he will not make much progress. When a person is physically all out of order it requires the highest order of common sense so that one organ will act in harmony with another in the process of digestion and elimination.

For the past thirty years Dr. Blankner has made a specialty of making sick people well.

If afflicted with your stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys, rheumatism, nerves, goiter, running sores, eczema, falling hair etc. why not make little journey to room No. 32, Arlington Hotel and meet the doctor face to face in a heart to heart talk as you will never know what he can't do for you unless you do. No more to the wise need be said.

WOMEN BUILD "EYES OF ARMY"

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, Sept. 6.—"Somewhere in England" there is a government factory where aeroplanes, often called the eyes of the army are built almost exclusively by women.

In one large shed alone women are engaged in making tents to house the machines, the wings of which other women in an adjoining shed cover and paint.

In one machine shop women are engaged in welding parts of the machines—an extremely difficult and delicate work, which requires much patience, concentration and skill. In other shops women are engaged upon prestoool work, rough filing, repetition milling, capstan lathe work, string sewing and small wood work. The women are also employed upon the inspection of stores and varnishing all woodwork.

All who have called with diseased teeth, the doctor's work is a revelation. Where can you go and sit down in an ordinary go as you please rocking chair, without the use of chloroform, ether, gas, somnolent, eucain, novocaine or any other dangerous drug, while the doctor sits by your side in another chair and removes one tooth after the other so easily and gracefully, skillfully and scientifically, without moving your head one-eighth of an inch one way or the other, and then when the work is done that you can look up in your gratitude and smile and say God Bless the Doctor. You say it is hard to believe, well then you go and call on Mrs. Claude Murphy, 108 Clinton St., who had out 26 teeth. Mrs. L. Wiley, 520 E. The Lincoln Memorial

Down near the little village of Hodgenville, Kentucky, on Monday—Labor Day—the great men and women of the nation gathered to participate in and to observe the impressive ceremonies which marked the formal transfer of the farm upon which Abraham Lincoln was born, to the United States government.

Due to the generosity and patriotism of prominent Americans led by a newspaper man the Lincoln farm was purchased from speculators who sought to exploit it for their own profit. The humble log cabin in which the great emancipator first saw the light of day was secured from the possession of traveling showmen, restored to its original form and is now housed within a costly and imposingly beautiful memorial building.

The poor little hill farm has been beautified and the whole surroundings placed in keeping with the sanctity of the spot.

The Lincoln farm and the Lincoln memorial, the humble log cabin now constitute the nation's shrine.

The people and this nation should preserve for future generations, the spot hallowed by the memory of the humble birth perhaps, all things considered, of the greatest man of our history.

Coming from the ranks of the common people the rise of Lincoln to a position where his wisdom and rugged honesty caused the world to regard him as almost inspired, is without parallel in the history of any land.

German Lines Unbroken

The French and British in, what history will designate, the battle of the Somme have been making desperate attacks with the purpose of breaking through the German lines.

Blow after blow, the news reports tell us, has been struck by the Allies upon the German lines, but these magnificent lines of fighting men refuse to give way before the most terrific assaults any army was ever called upon to withstand. Inch by inch the lines are pushed back to new positions, time after time the first line trenches have been taken since the Allied offensive began, but in no instance has the German line been broken.

That means that although the tide of battle has been flowing steadily against the Germans not only on the Somme front but in every other theater of war and on almost every battle line, within the past two months, the great German fighting machine is yet intact.

While the armies of the Kaiser have fallen back there has been no rout—scarcely a retreat.

The only evidence of weakening to be gathered thus far from the success of the Allied advance is that Germany no longer is willing to waste her soldiers in a vain assault or a vain defense. This is a marked change from earlier days of the war and points unerringly, it seems, to the conclusion that the Central powers are feeling the strain of war, and that they now face an opponent as prepared as are the troops of the Kaiser.

Developments also indicate with clearness that the Allies are ready to follow up every advantage and to endeavor with confidence to make that advantage.

With the armies of the Central powers intact, with the Allies unable to break the lines at any point, the man who can see Germany's defeat in the near future is certainly actuated more by hope than logic.

Very Good, Indeed

More than forty Ohio coal dealers five years ago objected to the rates being charged them by one of the coal carrying railroads of the state on shipments from Ohio mines.

Their objections received no "substantial" consideration. They were compelled to pay the rates the railroad arbitrarily fixed and never was any portion of the sum paid, returned to them.

These forty dealers told their several and collective tales of woe to the Public Service Commission of the state and, after so long a time, succeeded in getting the ponderous machinery of the state government in motion.

Now, after five years of delays and contests the Public Utilities Commission has ordered the offending railroad to pay back to the dealers the sums the railroad overcharged them, with interest.

All of which proves if the private citizen has enough determination and lives long enough they may obtain relief through some of the state boards and commissions created and maintained, 'tis announced, to protect the interests of the private citizens.

Just why it should take five years for the machinery of the state to grind out of the coffers of the railroad company the money which it overcharged dealers is a little difficult to understand.

But compared with long established custom the dealers are to be congratulated on living to see the end of the fight and the commission is to be congratulated on reaching the end of a controversy begun by a few rather obstinate citizens of Ohio.

Poetry For Today

FIREFLIGHT.
Against the curtained casement wind and sleet
Rattle and thresh, while snug by our own fire,
In dear companionship that naught may tire.
We sit— you listening, sewing in your seat,
Half-dreaming in the glow of light and heat,
I reading some old tale of love's desire
That swept on gold wings to disaster dire
Then rose resolute from black defeat
I close the book and louder yet the storm
Threshes without. Your busy hands are still;
And on your face and hair the light is warm.
As we sat gazing on the coal's red gleam
In a gold glow of happiness, and dream
Diviner dreams the years shall yet fulfill.

HOBON NEARLY LOSES HIS FORTUNE BY FIRE

Vest Which Contained Life's Savings Was About to Go Into a Furnace.

Bedford, Pa.—Twelve thousand three hundred and six dollars, the savings of a lifetime, which Tony Colombo of the east side, New York, had sewed in his vest, were saved from a blazing furnace in a local hotel by a narrow margin.

George Regoverl, cellist in the orchestra at the hotel, while motoring noticed a hobo pick a piece of bread from the ground where a picnic had been held several days ago. Regoverl took the man in his car and carried him back to the hotel. In the servants' quarters he was bathed, given a new suit of clothing and then a meal. Later he started on his way to New York.

He had been gone only a short time when he returned hastily, crying that his savings of a lifetime were sewed in the old vest, which he had discarded and which the management of the hotel had ordered consigned to the furnace. A hasty search was made and the money was found, as Colombo said.

WILL PULL AWAY IN OCTOBER

Ohio Guardsmen on Border May Soon Be Relieved.

RETURN TO CAMP WILLIS

American and Mexican Commissioners Expected to Effect a Peaceful Solution of Border Problems, In Which Event the Militia Will Be Sent Back to Mobilization Camps. Deserters Arrested.

Washington, Sept. 6.—It is the general expectation among officials of the war department that all of the militia organizations on the Mexican border, including the Ohio national guard, will be sent back to their home stations by the middle of October.

A great deal depends on the conference between commissioners representing the United States and Mexico, who are trying to work out a solution of the trouble that vexes the two countries. If they arrive at a peaceful solution that is broad in scope and covers the problem of protecting the border from invasions, as such a solution no doubt will do, it is expected at the war department that an order will be issued sending all the militiamen back to their mobilization points, which would leave only the regular army on the border. In that event, the militiamen probably will not be discharged immediately, but will be held in their state camps for military practice and also to await any possible flare-up.

On the eve of the adjournment of congress the war department is overrun with senators and representatives seeking information in regard to the possible withdrawal of the national guard troops from the Mexican border before election. The senators and representatives gain the impression, so they say, that it is plainly the hope and expectation of the department that the national guard forces shall be brought back to their home stations in October.

SCANDAL AGAIN

Columbus, Sept. 6.—Thirty-two members of the First ambulance corps, Ohio national guard, of Toledo, under command of Captain Dale Wilson, are locked in the city jail, following their desertion from Upper Arlington camp, because, as they charge, they were not being treated right in the kind of food given them.

Fifty-one men, including all the non-commissioned officers, except a top sergeant and duty sergeant, who were absent, broke away from camp and started on a foraging trip. They went to Olentangy park, where, it is alleged, they forced entrance to two buildings and made way with three cases of soft drinks.

Then the men continued their expedition along the river, south of the park, begging back-door handouts and helping themselves to garden truck, it is said. They entered one farmer's tomato patch and proceeded to take large quantities of the luscious fruit, but the soldiers accepted his bargain to give them a bushel of tomatoes if they would leave his premises.

They were in a field eating the tomatoes when a squad of Cleveland Greys, now doing provost duty under Captain Connelly, appeared to take them in custody. All except eighteen, who escaped, were committed to the city prison.

The Sixth regiment, under Colonel L. W. Howard of Toledo, with Brigadier General W. V. McMaken and his staff, left for the south today over the Toledo and Ohio Central railroad.

(By American Press)

Columbus, Sept. 6.—The local chamber of commerce filed suit today to enjoin State Auditor Donahay from paying $225,000 for the Wyandotte building for a state office building. (By American Press)

Berlin, Sept. 6.—The central food commission has prohibited the picking of green nuts, which formerly were used in large quantities for preserves in Germany. No nuts are to be gathered until they are completely ripe and yield oil. The nut harvest, which is estimated at several thousand tons, may be seized by the government.

Aged Woman Drives Auto.

Danville, Ill.—Sarah Hewitt, aged eighty-three, drove to Danville from her home, eight miles away, in her eighty horsepower roadster. "I can keep pace with the world, do my share of the work and enjoy my share of the pleasures with the rest of them, though I am nearly a quarter of a century past the age when, Dr. Osler said, folks should be chloroformed and killed," she declared. She handled her powerful car with ease and skill. "And I covered the distance in twenty minutes, which half a century ago would have taken an hour or more of jolting riding," she said.

They were in a field eating the tomatoes when a squad of Cleveland Greys, now doing provost duty under Captain Connelly, appeared to take them in custody. All except eighteen, who escaped, were committed to the city prison.

CONSTABLE BACK THROWN IN JAIL TO AWAIT TRIAL

Constable J. Albert Smith, more familiarly known as "Rabbit," is back. Incidentally he is now in jail.

It will be recalled that Smith, some two weeks ago, suddenly disappeared at the hour of trial on a charge of brutally beating a dog which he had been paid to dispose of in the proper manner, and leaving it for dead in an ally back of Withrow's grocery, on Market street.

At that time a capias was issued for his apprehension, but no effort was made to locate him and nothing had been heard from the fugitive until Tuesday of this week when Mayor Oster received a letter from Smith in which he stated that he would appear for trial not later than nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

Wednesday morning he showed up at the Mayor's office at seven o'clock and Patrolman Bell phoned Mayor Oster what he should do with Smith. "Place the Rabbit in a cage" were the prompt instructions and Smith was locked up until his trial can be arranged for. Meanwhile a charge of contempt of court will be one of the things he will face.

In his letter Smith said that he did not have money with which to employ an attorney, and would defend himself. That he left on the D. T. & I. the morning of the trial, went to Springfield and thence to Dayton. "But a man must eat" was a significant sentence in the letter.

His letter was worded in a manner calculated to appeal to the Mayor—and it did. Smith's trial will be held within a day or two.

FALSE REPORT IS PLACED ON BOARD

Some unknown person, without authority, Monday evening posted a false bulletin upon The Herald Bulletin board, purporting to be report of the Cincinnati races and stating that Resta was killed in the 73rd lap and DePalma had neck broken and would die.

No such bulletin was received by The Herald and the person posting such information did so without authority and without the knowledge of The Herald.

As the law provides punishment, such an act, a repetition of the offense will be vigorously prosecuted, if the identity of the party is ascertained.

PETITION FILED FOR COUNTY DITCH

A petition for a county ditch in Wayne and Union townships was filed with the county commissioners Tuesday, and a hearing set for September 28th, at nine o'clock.

Those petitioning for the ditch are: Frank C. Miller, Frank Gilmer, J. N. Riley, C. D. Overstake, Mary C. Gilmer, E. A. McCoy. The ditch has its source on the lands of E. H. Edwards.

CALLS FROM WYOMING TO HAVE CAR TUNED

One week ago last Thursday a stranger drove a big National Roadster into the Cox garage in this city, and with the brief information that he desired to leave it there a couple of days and was in a hurry to catch a train, left.

Nothing more was heard of the man until Tuesday night, when a long distance call came into the garage from Laramie, Wyoming, and the man who had left the car here stated that he would be in after it within the next three or four days, and asked to have the car "tuned up" and ready.

He was assured that the car would be ready and the conversation, which was conducted with as much ease as if the man had been in an adjoining town, came to an end.

The man had called approximately 1400 miles to order his car "tuned."

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT ESTABLISHES RECORD

The total enrollment of the Washington schools on the opening day was 1357, or the greatest number ever enrolled on the opening day.

The high school enrollment is 282, or greater than the enrollment at any time last year.

The schools have settled down to real business and everything is moving like clock-work in the various school buildings of the city. Miss Gertrude Fowler, of Union City, Indiana, a graduate of the Chicago University, is the new teacher of Mathematics in the high school.

Following is a complete list of teachers of the Washington high school: O. K. Probasco, principal; Miss Amy V. Conn, English, American Literature; Miss Clara Thurston, first and second year English; Mrs. Haidee Coffman, History; Mrs. Haidee Coffman, History; Miss Helen Jones, German and Algebra; Miss Beulah Harbison, Latin; Miss Mabel Houp, Commercial; Chancery E. Plyley, Physics and Chemistry; Miss Irene Van Hyning, Domestic Science; Miss Elizabeth Sheen, Music; Miss Marie Grove, Art.

COLLINS BOY IS BACK WITH PARENTS

William Collins, sixteen year old youth who was arrested in this city for endeavoring to pass a worthless check, has been released from custody and turned over to his parents. Tuesday afternoon, after the parents had pleaded hard for his release, and stated that the boy's crime had probably been the result of injuries to his head received years ago.

The young man is to be placed under the supervision of the Probate Court of Greene county, and if he does not toe the chalk line he will be dealt with accordingly.

From Xenia it was learned that he had been in trouble a number of times in that city.

WANTS DIVORCE AND PROPER ALIMONY

Alta May Lindsey, in common pleas court, asks that she be divorced from John Lindsey, whom she married Feb. 3, 1913.

Plaintiff, represented by Rankin and Rankin, also asks that she be decreed alimony, and restored to her maiden name of Crooks.

Plaintiff accuses defendant of being wilfully absent for the past three years, and that he refused and failed to provide a proper home for her.

LEASE ON LIVERY BARN CONTINUES

The building occupied by the Brown Livery business, corner Market and Fayette streets, while changing hands recently and announcement being made that a garage would be opened there, is under lease by Mr. Brown until May 30, 1918, and unless present plans are changed he will continue to conduct the livery barn until the lease expires.

EAST END SEWER WILL BE BUILT

Commissioners Approve Engineer's Plans and Specifications and Ditch Will Be Sold September 23—Will Be Complete New Sewer.

At the Tuesday session of the county commissioners the engineer's report on the East End Ditch was accepted and the ditch ordered sold on September 23rd, so that the sewer will be constructed this fall and hundreds of citizens in that part of the city will find relief from the annoyance of water in cellars, yards and washing across streets.

The new sewer is to be 18 inches and will be independent of the present sewer which has been the cause of so much annoyance. The sewer, or rather "county ditch" will start at Paint creek near Elm street, and extend up through the east end of the city and connect with a ditch at a point just above the B. & O. railroad, north of the Lewis pike, and when the ditch is once constructed it is expected to solve the problem of drainage for all time, in that part of the city.

The sewer constructed by the city receives what it can carry of an open ditch, and as a result has become clogged and is in anything else but good condition.

As the county turns a large volume of water loose just north of that part of the city, it was necessary to take care of it, and this is being done. Part of the ditch or sewer is to be paid for by the city.

PICTURE AGENTS CAUSE ANNOYANCE

Various citizens in the county have made complaint of agents who have appeared, seeking pictures to enlarge, and, under the pretext of giving free $5 on an order, allow some member of a family to draw from several slips held in the agent's hand, and usually the agent permits a child to draw the "lucky number" and invariably obtains the order for enlargement.

A different agent delivers the finished picture, pretends he does not know about the five dollars credit, collects a fee usually exorbitant, and departs, leaving his customer "stung" to the tune of many dollars.

LITTLE CHOLERA IN THIS COUNTY

Veterinarians report that at the present time the swine plague, cholera, which last year lost Fayette county farmers between $30,000 and $45,000, has been almost wiped out of most parts of the county, and very little of the disease exists.

The number of swine in Fayette county is unusually large this year and the farmers are greatly pleased over the small amount of disease.

JURIES TO BE DRAWN TOMORROW

The Grand and Petit juries for the October term of court will be drawn Thursday morning.

Indications are the October term of court will be a busy one.

ASKS $3000 FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT

Damages of $3,000 are claimed by Harley De Long, as the result of being taken into custody by B. & O. police on August 28, 1916, and kept in the city prison for a short time. De Long, who filed his damage suit in Common Pleas court alleges that he was roughly treated and wrongly imprisoned.

The petition states that B. & O. Police Manss, Phillips, Kennedy and Kramer arrested the plaintiff on Aug. 28 and that in so doing they injured him about the neck. At that time he was peacefully standing on the platform at the depot, awaiting a train to Greenfield. He was taken to the police station where he was retained for about four and one-half hours.

ARGUE MOTION IN SUIT FOR RECEIVER

A motion to dismiss the action recently filed by Bartley Mallow against John Green and Harry Hill, in which the plaintiff asked judgment in the sum of $7,000, and that a receiver be appointed for the Harry Hill Wild West show, was argued before Judge Cyrus Newby, in common pleas court, Wednesday afternoon, with Gregg, Patton & Gregg and F. A. Chaffin representing defendants and John Logan representing the plaintiff.

Before argument was completed the case was adjourned until next Monday, when it will be resumed.

Several witnesses have been subpoenaed to testify in the case.

PARTITION SUIT IN COMMON PLEAS

In the court of common pleas James B. Harris has filed suit for the partition of 79.35 acres in Union township, making Sarah E. Harris and a score of others defendants, including both attorneys for the plaintiff, Rankin and Rankin.

Plaintiff claims the undivided one seventh of the land.

CITY WILL GET ABOUT $75,000; WANTS $125,000

Budget Commission to Meet The City Officials Tomorrow In Effort to Properly Apportion Funds—City to Receive About $15,000 Outside of Sinking Fund.

A very interesting meeting will be held at the County Commissioners' office at two o'clock Thursday afternoon, when the Budget Commission consisting of County Auditor Pine, County Treasurer Duff and Prosecutor Maddox, will meet the city officials and endeavor to make $75,000 do the work of $125,000 in this city.

The city has asked for $75,000 and the School Board for $50,000, but it will be impossible to meet either demand by a great many thousands of dollars, and as the city is now being taxed to the limit under the famous Smith One Per Cent law, the tax rate cannot be increased, and the result will be that the city will feel keenly the scarcity between the actual needs of the city and what will be allowed.

For the entire year the city will receive approximately $43,000 of the total amount, it is expected, and of this amount $28,000 must go into the sinking fund for principal and interest on bonds.

It will be seen by this that only $15,000 will remain with which to conduct the affairs of the city during the fiscal year.

HEAVY RAINS DO MUCH DAMAGE

Heavy rains in and near Dayton

The storm at some points is said to have been almost a cloudburst.

At the same time a terrific storm swept over northwestern Fayette, doing some damage.

JAMES R. MILLS FUNERAL SERVICE

Large Concource of Relatives
Friends and Business Associates Pay Final Tribute to Memory of Influential Citizen.

The funeral services of Mr. James R. Mills, well known retired farmer of Fayette county, were impressively conducted by Rev. A. S. Davidson of the West Holland circuit, at the Good Hope M. E. church, Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock.

A number of friends had gathered at the residence on Circle Avenue to accompany the family to Good Hope and a long procession of autos followed the funeral car.

The casket was magnificent, of solid bronze, faced with silver, and was borne by nephews, Messrs. Wm. Cohagan, Nathan Cohagan, Josiah Wilson, Horace Wilson, J. E. Saffall, J. C. Saffall.

Friends carried into the church beautiful flowers, the farewell remembrance of relatives and friends.

Before leaving the residence Rev. Davidson read the scripture and Rev. J. Vernon Stone offered prayer.

Rev. Stone and Rev. Charles L. Pfaltzgraf, of Good Hope, assisted at the church, where there was a large assemblage, the older farmers and business men of this section specially well represented.

Rev. Davidson delivered an excellent sermon and read the memoir and the church quartet furnished the music.

OBITUARY.

James R. Mills was born in the state of Maryland, July 12, 1831, and died at Washington C. H., Ohio, September 1st, 1916, aged 85 years and 20 days.

When a small child, he, with the rest of his immediate family, moved from their Maryland home and settled in Perry county, Ohio. When a mere boy he knelt at the Methodist altar during a camp meeting, finding peace and joy in his Savior. He soon united with Friendship M. E. church, Perry county, where his membership remained until he became a resident of Fayette county, when he transferred his membership to Camp Grove M. E. church.

On Feb. 10, 1853 he was united in marriage to Catherine Grimes, who after many years of congenial and loving fellowship was called to the heavenly land.

On December 5, 1902 he was united in marriage to Angeline Knipe, who survives to mourn the loss of him who to her was a kind and loving husband and who to her children was a most kind and considerate friend.

Mr. Mills was never blessed with children of his own, but 49 years ago he took into his home a little girl, Angeline Hiles, now Mrs. Bell, who lived in the Mills home and on the Mills farm for 46 years.

In the death of Mr. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Bell have lost a true friend who was as a father to them.

He was one of a family of nine brothers and sisters, all of whom have now departed this life, so that the nearest relatives are the nephews and nieces.

Mr. Mills was always a man of strictest integrity, honest and honorable in all his dealings with others. His life was one of constant activity.

During the long sickness which preceded his death he exhibited remarkable patience as well as much hope and faith in God.

Upon one occasion during his illness he was heard humming an old tune and being asked if he knew what the tune was, said:

"Jesus my all to heaven has gone."

During his sickness his pastor visited him quite often and more than once questioned him in regard to his relationship with God, and Mr. Mills made it plain that while not anxious to leave this world, yet his trust was in his Savior.

Dawn After Darkness.

Rev. W. S. Gray.

The feet grow weary with the years; The eyes grow dim in twilight shades; The day is passing, night appears, And shadows grow as daylight fades

Toward the West.

The weary eyes are closed at last; The hands are folded on the breast,

The labors of the day are past, The Father gently whispers, "Rest!"

And this is best.

Past is the toil, past is the strife; No cloud is seen upon the brow; These all belong to earthly life. And that has ceased forever now;

The race is run.

The woes of life are left behind, Its fears and ills no more affright;

No place for worries here we find; Rest comes to tired ones at night,

And peace is won.

Tis morning on the other shore; Bright on the hills its beauty glows;

Clouds, shadows, storms, are felt no more,

And darkness flees with all its woes

In that bright clime.

A night of labor speeds away, A night of sorrow flees apace;

A night of pain here loses sway,

A morn of blessedness and grace

Takes place of time.

Eternal morning comes at last,

The dayspring rises on the scene;

The night, with all its terrors past, Brings in the dawning fair, serene,

Where glories come.

Tis morning! angels' voices sing,

And heaven's doors swing open wide;

And loudly through its arches ring

A welcome from the other side—

A soul finds home.

SENATE STRIKES AT BLACKLIST

Revenue Measure Provides Means of Retaliation.

IS AIMED AT THE ALLIES

Fight Against the Section Creating a Tariff Commission Led by Senator Underwood Proves Futile—Measure Imposes Special Taxes On Inheritances and Munitions—Bill Passes by a Vote of 42 to 16.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The senate amended and passed the revenue bill by a vote of 42 to 16. The measure is designed to raise $205,000,000 annually. It establishes a protective tariff on dyestuffs.

Drastic amendments striking at the allied blacklist and British interference with American mails, were adopted.

An amendment of Senator Phelan of California was adopted authorizing the president by proclamation to deny the use of the mails, express, telegraph, wireless or cable facilities to citizens of nations which do not accord to Americans all facilities of commerce, "including the unhampered traffic in the mails." This amendment, it was declared, was aimed particularly at British interference with American mails.

Another amendment withdraws clearance to foreign or domestic vessels from American ports which give "any undue or unreasonable performance or advantage in any respect whatsoever to any particular person, company or corporation, or any particular description of traffic in the United States or its possessions to the citizens of the United States residing in neutral countries abroad," or in subjecting any of them to "any undue or unreasonable prejudice, disadvantage, injury or discrimination in regard to accepting, receiving, transporting or delivering, or refusing to accept or receive, transport or deliver any cargo, freight or passengers."

Senator Underwood led a futile attack on the section of the revenue bill creating a tariff commission.

A section of the bill is designed as a safeguard against the dumping of foreign goods into the United States at cheap prices after the war.

Senator Martine offered an amendment, which was defeated, to place all print paper on the free list.

The bill as finally agreed upon provides for an increase from 1 to 2 per cent on the normal income tax, with an exemption of $4,000 for married and $3,000 for single persons. The bill imposes special taxes on inheritances and on the profits of manufacturers of munitions.

Special taxes are also imposed on liquors, profits of corporations, brokers, theaters, tobacco and bonds.

WANT MORE

(By American Press)

Denver, Colo., Sept. 6.—The most enormous demand for nickels and pennies ever known is now deluging the United States treasury department, and the mint in Denver is breaking all records for activity in manufacturing those coins. The mint is working day and night and Sundays. There is every indication that the rush will continue three months. At present the Denver mint is making only nickels and pennies. Each day it turns out $10,000 in nickels and $2,000 in pennies. These coins are shipped east at intervals. If the present activity is continued three months—as Superintendent Thomas Annear says undoubtedly it will—the Denver mint will have coined $900,000 in nickels and $180,000 in pennies, a total of $1,080,000 of small coins. This would amount to 36,000,000 individual coins. The Denver officials say the demand for coins of the smaller values is confined almost wholly to periods of great prosperity in the east.

SEAL HERDS GROW

(By American Press)

Washington, Sept. 6.—Growth in the size of the fur seal herds of the Pribilof Islands is shown by a census now being taken by Dallas Hanna of the bureau of fisheries. Mr. Hanna's inspections on St. George's Island of the Pribilof group revealed 552 harems and 354 idle bulls, almost double the number of last year. On St. Paul's Island there are 2,948 harems and 2,278 idle bulls, an increase of about 30 per cent over last year.

London, Sept. 6.—On a front of about twenty-five miles, in the Somme sector, the French and British troops, supported by their enormous artillery arm, are steadily hammering the German positions, and sustaining unflinchingly heavy counter attacks. The allied lines are drawing more closely about Combles and toward Perrone and farther and farther the allies' wedges are being driven into the German lines north and south of the Somme river.

North of the Somme to the east and southeast of Forest the French have driven forward their lines, capturing the outskirts of Anderlu wood, Hospital farm and the Ralnnette wood and part of Marrieres wood and a position on the road leading from Bouchevres to Clery.

Near Ginchy, north of Guillemont, the British have made further progress, winning all the territory between the Faltemont farm and Leuze wood.

Suffragists In Convention at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 6.—The fortunes of Hughes and Wilson in the present campaign are intimately interested in the convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association, which started here today with 1,500 women in attendance.

This afternoon a three cornered debate began on the comparative merits of the plans to work only for a suffrage amendment to the constitution, or only for state amendments, or both simultaneously.

A section of the delegates will try to have the association adopt an amendment to its constitution which would make it impossible for any member of the Woman's party, or its sponsor, the Congressional union, to be at the same time a member of this association.

The southern states are said to be strong for the state method of obtaining votes for women, while several northern associations are in favor of abandoning all state work to concentrate effort on obtaining a national amendment.

In the debate this afternoon Miss Laura Clay of Kentucky is the advocate of state work only; Mrs. Ida Husted Harper of New York city, federal work solely, and Mrs. Raymond Brown of New York city a combination of the two. At the end of the debate the association will vote on the question.

GLORIA'S ROMANCE

SYNOPSIS.

Piermont Stafford, banker and railroad magnate, with his sixteen-year-old daughter, Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but wilful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. She escapes from her room at night and in an auto plunges into the surf where she leaves the car. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. She is rescued and returned to her father who had offered a reward for her return. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Freneau. Five years later she leaves school and marries Freneau, though her mother, having been occupied with her sister-in-law he has forgotten Gloria. Gloria feels that her one dream is shattered. Later Freneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lois, becomes intensely jealous and Doctor Royce discovers in her an ally to assist in thwarting Freneau. Doctor Royce warns him that there is another woman besides Gloria; Freneau goes sleighing with Gloria without her father's knowledge. It results in pneumonia for Gloria, whose family becomes incensed at Freneau when they learn the truth. Freyne is summoned to alleviate Gloria's suffering.

Of course, Lois was guiltless, but perhaps she had been careless of appearances. It would be better to wait and rebuke the indiscretion when it occurred. He had been talking of a trip South to a meeting of a board of railroad directors on which his father had placed him. It was not necessary for him to go. But he might pretend that it was, and tell Lois good-by, and pretend to leave, and then—. He dared not put the scheme into words. But he dared not let the chance go past to make sure.

That evening, when he went home, Lois greeted him with her usual warmth. Before he had quite decided what to do, he had told her that he was called South for ten days, and he had not urged her to go with him. She did not ask to go. In fact, he thought that she took the bad news with just a little too much philosophy. He was tormented with shame and suspicion.

The next day, when he went to his office, he bade her good-by as if he were the criminal and she the saint. He could not have imagined that Lois only waited his departure to fling on her hat and her veil and speed to Freneau before he should leave for his own office.

She found him, and he gave her a cold welcome. When she told him that David was to be in the far South for a week, he did not seem to be interested. When she rejoined that now they could be together without the annoyance of David's presence, Freneau solemnly reminded her of the danger from gossips and servants. He must walk warily, now that he was betrothed to a bank account like Stafford's.

To this Lois made the astonishing answer that if New York was too full of spies, she would go elsewhere. She reminded him of a beautiful village in the Catskill mountains, and declared her intention of paying it a visit; also she advised Freneau to happen there at the same time—his fiancee, Gloria, was too ill to see him, anyway, and he could give a business trip as an excuse.

Freneau was indignant, but Lois was dangerous. She threatened him again with the awful weapon of suicide, against which there is no defense. He realized that he was the prey of a kind of blackmailer. He had once thought of Lois as a conquest to be proud of; now he saw that he himself was the victim and she the tyrant. With one rash act she could not only destroy herself but all Freneau's plans.

Again he surrendered. Surrender was becoming a habit. He made one condition, that they should take along the letters they had exchanged and destroy them. He wanted no written evidence of his past to imperil his future. Lois consented, and hurried away, rejoicing.

She left Freneau in a mood of black rage and remorse. The quality of his remorse was shown in his meditations. He thought of the many women he had dealt with lightly, and he wondered if any more of them would rise to threaten his security as a son-in-law of Piermont Stafford.

That very day the most pitiful of his conquests appeared. Nell Trask had learned from a newspaper that her father had been knocked down by an automobile and taken to a hospital. She visited him there. His bodily injuries were not serious, but he was brooding so bitterly over Freneau that Nell began to fear for his reason. He told her that he had seen Freneau and had denounced him, and Freneau had struck him in the face. Old Trask was burning to avenge it. He whispered to Nell that he would reach Freneau yet and strangle him like a dog. She feared both for her own father and for the father of her dead child. She thought of writing Freneau to warn him, but that might only lead him to persecute her father. Perhaps if she begged him to marry her, he would be rich enough now. She found out Freneau's address with little difficulty, and appeared at his door soon after Lois had left him, in an ugly mood. The apparition now of so humble an incident in his past as the daughter of a bargeman was too disgusting to endure.

When the valet opened Freneau's door, Nell slipped past him and ran straight to Freneau. He could not even pretend the ordinary courtesies. He would not listen to her. He ordered his valet to bundle her out and to take his own two weeks' notice.

Nell had no more fight in her than a violet. Like a violet, she bloomed to be trodden on or plucked for a moment and tossed aside. She drifted back to the shabby barge moored at the dock and waited for her father to return "home."

Freneau, raging and calling himself a fool, drove his arms into the overcoat his man held for him and left for his office, wondering whether he was to be compelled to close up the office because of the follies he had committed. He agreed that flirtation was a poor business.

All this while Gloria lay in her bed by the window imagining that Freneau was pining away for her, while she was getting well as fast as she could for him. Doctor Royce's treatment consisted mainly in keeping out of the way of nature, helping it, but not impeding it with drugs. Gloria was responding with all the rush of youth. He was glad of his success as a physician, but he was miserable over her eagerness to get back to her romance. Once, while he watched her as she slept, he saw that she smiled. He was afraid that he knew why. When her eyes opened and stared about her room and at him in bewilderment, he understood that she had come out of the dream realm.

"Oh, such wonderful dream I've had. I dreamed I was well—all of a sudden I hopped out of bed, and—presently, my clothes were on without all the trouble of buttons and hooks and eyes, and I floated through the wall and over the roofs and climbed down the chimney of Dick's apartment house like a regular Santa Claus.

"Then I came out through the steam radiator without even rumppling my frock, and there I found Dick so lonely and forlorn as never was. When he saw me he nearly expired of joy.

"Then I took him by the hand and floated with him through the wall and across the roof to the darlingest little church. The darlingest little minister floated through the pulpit and then—dog on it!—I had to go and wake up. But wasn't it a beautiful dream?"

"Beautiful," groaned Doctor Royce.

She was too happy to hear the sorrow in his voice. She merely exclaimed: "Hurry up, for heaven's sake, and get me well."

And, like a dutiful young physician, he promised. But he wondered whether it was kindness or not to restore her to the world where dreams do not often come true—unless they are bad dreams.

Ridgway, Pa.—Patrick Deering was carried in an ambulance to a hospital recently, while by his side lay the cause of his troubles, the biggest trout ever seen in this vicinity. Pat was in sore need of treatment for a dent in his head, while his companion in distress, the trout, was to be treated as food for the hospital patients.

Patrick while diving in Laurel mill pool collided with the big trout. The fish, stunned by the blow, immediately rose to the surface and was captured by other swimmers. Pat, sorely hurt, was pulled from the water.

AN UNDERWORLD PALACE.

Wonderful Things to Be Seen in the Luray Caverns.

Halfway up the Shenandoah valley are the Luray caverns, an underworld palace built by the busy hands of tricling waters.

Aladdin, we are told, was once permitted to enter a cave which exhibited such decorations that its glory both dazzled and affrighted. But Aladdin never beheld anything more wondrously exquisite than the water built architecture of Luray.

The Throne room is canopied with curtains woven of diamonds and pearls. The Saracen tent has more than oriental splendors of richest damasks and golden samite, which drapes the crystal couch in festoons of magic beauty. Titania's veil is woven of petrified spiders' web, while the ballroom seems as if set to celebrate a marriage between the gods.

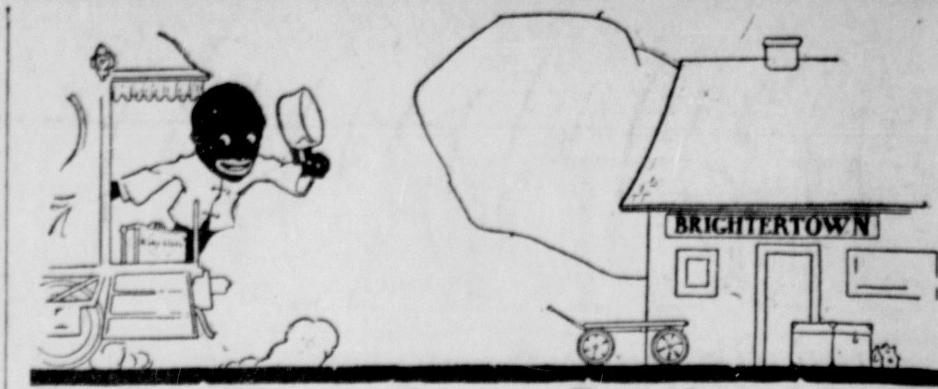

The visitor to Luray today shares the sentiment of another visitor of long ago who exclaimed, "Mortal hath not made the like nor human fancy conceived a thing more magnificent."—National Geographic Magazine.

AVIATION COSTLY.

Society Folks Pay Dollar a Minute to Learn.

MUST BE RICH FOR GAME.

Many Aristocratic People of New York Are Taking to Flying, and Only They Can Stand Expense Under Present Conditions.

New York.—It costs a dollar a minute to get into our highest social circles since the aristocratic youth of Long Island and Yale, under the patronage of Mrs. Henry P. Davison, have taken up military aviation.

And not only that. Society is taking a flying start toward the conquest of the air quite aside from the martial aspect of the case. The center of aerial activity is now at Fort Washington, on Manhattan set bay.

The patrol is composed of some of the best known young men in society.

ADMIRAL PEARY ABOUT TO TAKE A FLIGHT

It is headed by Trubee Davison and takes in young Robert A. Lovett, whose father is the head of the Union Pacific road; John Voris of Columbus, O., whose father was one of the best known political figures in the country; John W. Farwell, 3d, son of the Chicago millionaire; Albert Ditman of Englewood, Wesley Laud Brown of Englewood, Artemus L. Gates of Iowa; Earl Gould, son of the late Dr. Elgin R. L. Gould, and Allan Ames. There are a lot more to join, including H. P. Davison, Jr., who is now in France with the American ambulance, and W. F. Sullivan, who is a lieutenant in the British flying corps.

Trubee Davison was on the point of joining the American ambulance in France, too, when he was diverted to the service of this country by the very, very apparent need for aviators along the Mexican border. That showed him how much more good he could do by staying in this land of the free and preparing to uphold the flag in case of need.

John Hays Hammond, Jr., and Admiral Peary gave the notion a push, and the combined force prevailed upon the Davison family to sponsor the patrol.

For the course the boys pay $400 each, which is about a dollar a minute for the actual flying lessons. The buying of a machine and keeping it in repair and the like cost thousands of dollars.

QUICK THINKING SAVED ARM.

Clerk Jumped Into Mail Conveyor When Heavy Cord Caught Him.

Chicago.—A fast working brain saved Emil H. Johnson, a substitute mail clerk at the local postoffice, from possible serious injury recently. He was throwing mail into an endless chain conveyor when his arm became entangled in the heavy cord of a mail sack. Swiftly and surely the arm was being carried into a position where it would be first broken and then torn from his body.

Johnson thought quickly and jumped into the conveyor, laid down and rode with the sack of mail. On the way he disengaged his arm and when the conveyor was stopped walked down stairs and resumed his work.

Man's Will In One Line.

Seattle, Wash.—Containing a single sentence. "I will my property to L. N. Hazlett, No. 228Z First avenue," the shortest will on record here has been filed in the superior court. The instrument was drawn by A. J. Keller, who died June 15 from injuries received when he was kicked by a horse. The doctors at the hospital where Keller was taken told him he had but a short time to live, so Keller, using a single small sheet of yellow scratch paper, wrote his last will and testament in a firm hand and then died.

Baby Chokes to Death on Candy.

Chicago.—Anthony Junior, the eight-month-old son of Anthony Tel, choked to death on a stick of candy at the home of his parents on the south side. His six-year-old sister had given him the candy, which lodged in his throat and brought death before medical aid could be summoned.

London Announces
Important Gains
Made in British Attacks.

Russian Pressure in Volhynia and Galicia Is Maintained and Petrograd Announces Big Capture of Prisoners.

Berlin Admits Loss
But Also Claims
Slight Gains in Other Sectors.

(Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, SEPTEMBER 6.—WHILE THE GERMANS WERE MAKING ATTACK AFTER ATTACK SOUTH OF THE SOMME LAST NIGHT, SEEKING TO RECOVER GROUND WON BY THE FRENCH IN THEIR LATEST ADVANCE, THE BRITISH STRUCK ANOTHER BLOW NORTH OF THE RIVER.

A London statement says all of Leuze Wood is now in possession of the British and fighting continues between the wood and Combles.

German infantry charged repeatedly south of the Somme between Denicourt and Berny, the Paris War Office announces, but the attacks were broken by the French fire.

In the Verdun sector, the Germans prepared an attack against Fleury, but a Paris communication says the French quick-firers prevented them from debouching.

Russian pressure is being maintained on the Austro-German lines in Volhynia and eastern Galicia, and violent fighting continues.

Petrograd announces 4,500 more prisoners have been taken along the lower Gorodenka river, southwest of Lemberg.

Accounts of the invasion of Dobrudja, the eastern portion of Roumania, are at variance.

An official Roumanian statement says the invaders have been checked and that the entire frontier in that section is in the hands of the Roumanians.

Recent German and Bulgarian statements have reported the capture of several Roumanian towns and the infliction of heavy losses on the Roumanians.

Berlin admits the loss of Clery, on the Somme near Peronne.

The German statement also says that the Teutonic troops have made additional gains in southeastern Roumania, but admits that the Russians have pressed forward in Galicia, pushing back the front of Archduke Charles along the Dneister and Lipa rivers.

New York, September 6.—A further slight increase in the infantile paralysis epidemic was shown in the Department of Health report today for the 24 hours ending at 10 o'clock this morning.

UNSATISFACTORY EARLY RETURNS

Primary Election Results Still in Doubt

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, September 6.—Primary election results are still indefinite in the several states that voted yesterday, but early results indicate:

That Governor E. L. Phillips, Conservative Republican, won easily in Wisconsin over three opponents, and that Senator Robert LaFollette received the re-nomination over M. G. Jefferis, Conservative Republican. There were no contests on the Democratic, Socialist and Prohibitionist tickets.

Idaho gave the Republican gubernatorial nomination to D. W. Davis. Democratic nominees were unopposed.

Henry W. Keyes appears to lead in the race for the Republican nomination for Governor in New Hampshire, and John C. Hutchins seems to have a safe lead for the Democratic nomination.

London, September 6.—Casualty lists for the first two weeks of August show that the British army lost 600 officers killed, 1,702 wounded and 204 missing, a total of 2,506.

New York, September 6.—Union leaders forecast a strike for two o'clock tomorrow morning which would tie up the subway and elevated lines of the Interborough Rapid Transit Lines, in the heart of the city.

The employees demand annulment of individual contracts binding many of them not to seek wage increases for two years.

Vote on the strike question will be taken up at meetings tonight.

The company has announced that it will not consent to arbitration.

Indications are that employees of other lines will join in the strike if it is called.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Atlantic City, N. J., September 6.—The National American Woman Suffrage Association, opening its fortieth annual convention here today, will not, according to influential leaders, endorse or criticize, as an organization, any candidate now in the field for the office of President of the United States, because of the views he holds on the question of equal rights for women.

The forty-eighth annual convention of the Woman Suffrage Association opened here today with women present from all sections of the country.

One of the most important questions before the convention, whether to concentrate on federal or state campaigns or to continue to work for both, will be decided later in the day, when amendments to the constitution will be voted upon.

The presidential address of Mrs. Carrie Chapman-Catt is expected to be the feature of tomorrow's session. The convention will close Sunday afternoon.

The Association will decide to continue its fight for votes for women by working for both the federal amendment and state amendment, it was declared.

The opening session of the convention in the forenoon was confined to routine reports of offices.

PURCHASE BY STATE ENJOINED

Columbus Chamber of Commerce Seeks to Halt Purchase of the Wyandotte Building for Office Purposes.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., September 6.—Judge Rathmell of the Common Pleas Court today granted the Columbus Chamber of Commerce a temporary injunction restraining the State from purchasing the Wyandotte building for the use of the state offices.

The Columbus Chamber of Commerce, as a corporation, and tax payer, in its own name today filed an injunction proceeding in the Franklin county courts to restrain State Auditor Donahay from paying $225,000 for the purchase of the Wyandotte building, which is to be used to house state offices which cannot find room in the Capitol.

Today's suit substitutes the one brought through August Welland several days ago. It was learned that Welland was not a taxpayer.

A statement issued by the secretary of the Chamber declared that it is the judgment of the business men of Columbus, and, he believed, of the entire state, that the building is not large enough to properly satisfy the need for additional space, and that the State should construct a new building, properly located.

Attorney General Edward C. Turner immediately filed a demurral to the new suit, alleging there is no ground for action. Briefs will be submitted and early action by the court is expected.

COMMISSION BEGINS WORK

Six Members of Joint American-Mexican Commission Hold Session.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New London, Conn., September 6.—The six members of the American Mexican Joint Commission held their first formal session at the hotel in Groton today, with Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican membership, presiding.

The session was expected to be devoted to arranging details of the conference to follow.

The program will be laid out today, as far as it can be determined.

At the conclusion of the two hours' conference today, at which a preliminary schedule for the discussions was adopted, the commissioners adjourned until Friday.

CHARTER FORM OF GOVERNMENT URGED BY SOLONS

Xenia, like Washington, Chillicothe and a great many other Ohio cities, is seeking a charter government, and regarding the latest move in that city the Xenia Gazette says:

"As an indication of the fact that the "city dads" of Xenia are not wedded to the present form of city government they adopted a resolution at the regular meeting of Council Friday night instructing City Solicitor Harry D. Smith to ascertain the various forms of commission government now in use in the country and make a report to council at an early date. The resolution also provides that the City Solicitor report how the city should proceed to adopt the commission form of government. Council man LeSourd presented the resolution and it was adopted by unanimous vote."

"Since the passage of the Smith one per cent law the city officials have had a tough struggle to keep the city's head above water and it is apparent from their Friday night action that they are ready and willing to try out some other form of government on the chance that it may prove less expensive. Other cities some of them much larger than Xenia have tried the commission form of government with success and it is the opinion of the members of city council that it would prove a success in Xenia. At any rate it is worthy of investigation and the city council is to be complimented upon bringing the matter to the attention of the public."

MEXICANS BUSY PRINTING MONEY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Mexico City, Sept. 6.—The destruction of the so-called Vera Cruz issue of Mexican currency and the issuance of the new paper money known as "infalsifiables" have made the government printing office one of the busiest spots in Mexico. The Vera Cruz bills, over $50,000,000 worth of which have been destroyed are cut into strips in a hydraulic press, transformed into pulp and made into cardboard and pastboard of which there is great scarcity. This product finds a ready sale and it is possible that the government may also destroy old documents to produce material for a government box factory in the near future.

The department now is working at high pressure to turn out the new "infalsifiable" $2 bills, sorely needed because of the scarcity of small change.

Not only the modern presses but even the old hand presses are being utilized to expedite the work.

The tremendous quantity of stamps and post cards printed under the Huerta regime are being revaluated by the impress of a special die changing the denomination.

The stamping out of copper coins has been begun and it is announced this is to be followed shortly by the coinage of both gold and silver.

Skepticism is a Disease That Has Many Angles, so Says Dr. Frederick Blankner, the Specialist, now at Arlington Hotel until Saturday, Sept. 8th.

A skeptical person surely has many mental twists. Skepticism closes the door of many opportunities and puts a ban on common sense, cripples reason, dethrones judgment, impedes progress and puts you in a class of an iser. Skepticism and reason never joined hands and where you find a skeptical saturate you find a foggy, obsolete to the times and when opportunity has passed and you realize that you have lost out then you spread yourself in the lap of regret and chastise yourself for being such a fool. Any person with such an equipment does not amount to much either to themselves or any body else for they are stumble-mongers and a draw back to society and warts on civilization. This is the definition of one that never believes and will not believe even when shown. However these characters are few. Many people have cause to be skeptical and no one know it better than the writer because for the past thirty years he has com in contact with people who have been fooled so many times that they have a good foundation on which to rest their skepticism and this is not the class of people referred to above. Nearly every one that meets Dr. Blankner in a heart to heart talk will tell him that so many times have they been fooled that confidence ceases to be a virtue. In the treatment of chronic diseases there are many complications and unless the physician can appreciate all the elements entering into the general cause of sickness he will not make much progress. When a person is physically all out of order it requires the highest order of common sense so that one organ will act in harmony with another in the process of digestion and elimination.

For the past thirty years Dr. Blankner has made a specialty of making sick people well.

If afflicted with your stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys, rheumatism nerves, goiter, running sores, eczema, falling hair etc. why not make a little journey to room No. 32, Arlington Hotel and meet the doctor face to face in a heart to heart talk as you will never know what he can or can't do for you unless you do. No more to the wise need be said.

They All Smile And Say 'God Bless the Doctor,' in room No. 32

All who have called with diseased teeth, the doctor's work is a revelation. Where can you go and sit down in an ordinary go as you please rocking chair, without the use of chloroform, ether, gas, somnolent, eucain, novocaine or any other dangerous drug, while the doctor sits by your side in another chair and removes one tooth after the other so easily and gracefully, skillfully and scientifically, without moving your head one-eighth of an inch one way or the other, and then when the work is done that you can look up in your gratitude and smile and say God Bless the Doctor. You say it is hard to believe, well then you go and call on Mrs. Claude Murphy, 108 Clinton St., who had out 29 teeth. Mrs. L. Wiley, 520 E. Market, who had four and is going to have all the rest out. Mrs. H. C. Leeth, Oakland Ave., who had six, Mr. G. C. McKibben, Oakland Ave., who had out two and one that had been pulled on so hard and fierce that for weeks he said he could not eat scarcely for pain. Every little detail is observed, to make it a pleasure. Dr. Blankner has extracted teeth for thousands of people within a hundred miles of Washington as well as having treated many for all kinds of ailments that were on the scrap heap of discouragement. In Middle town, Ohio, the Doctor remained for fourteen months and could have remained a life time had he so chosen, but the doctor likes to travel knowing that wherever there are people he can get all the work he wants to do. Until Saturday, September 8th. Office hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Doctor's wife in attendance.

The Lincoln Memorial

Down near the little village of Hodgenville, Kentucky, on Monday—Labor Day—the great men and women of the nation gathered to participate in and to observe the impressive ceremonies which marked the formal transfer of the farm upon which Abraham Lincoln was born, to the United States government.

Due to the generosity and patriotism of prominent Americans led by a newspaper man the Lincoln farm was purchased from speculators who sought to exploit it for their own profit. The humble log cabin in which the great emancipator first saw the light of day was secured from the possession of traveling showmen, restored to its original form and is now housed within a costly and imposingly beautiful memorial building.

The poor little hill farm has been beautified and the whole surroundings placed in keeping with the sanctity of the spot.

The Lincoln farm and the Lincoln memorial, the humble log cabin now constitute the nation's shrine.

The people and this nation should preserve for future generations, the spot hallowed by the memory of the humble birth perhaps, all things considered, of the greatest man of our history.

Coming from the ranks of the common people the rise of Lincoln to a position where his wisdom and rugged honesty caused the world to regard him as almost inspired, is without parallel in the history of any land.

German Lines Unbroken

The French and British in, what history will designate, the battle of the Somme have been making desperate attacks with the purpose of breaking through the German lines.

Blow after blow, the news reports tell us, has been struck by the Allies upon the German lines, but these magnificent lines of fighting men refuse to give way before the most terrible assaults any army was ever called upon to withstand. Inch by inch the lines are pushed back to new positions, time after time the first line trenches have been taken since the Allied offensive began, but in no instance has the German line been broken.

That means that although the tide of battle has been flowing steadily against the Germans not only on the Somme front but in every other theater of war and on almost every battle line, within the past two months, the great German fighting machine is yet intact.

While the armies of the Kaiser have fallen back there has been no rout—scarcely a retreat.

The only evidence of weakening to be gathered thus far from the success of the Allied advance is that Germany no longer is willing to waste her soldiers in a vain assault or a vain defense. This is a marked change from earlier days of the war and points unerringly, it seems, to the conclusion that the Central powers are feeling the strain of war, and that they now face an opponent as prepared as are the troops of the Kaiser.

Developments also indicate with clearness that the Allies are ready to follow up every advantage and to endeavor with confidence to make that advantage.

With the armies of the Central powers intact, with the Allies unable to break the lines at any point, the man who can see Germany's defeat in the near future is certainly actuated more by hope than logic.

Very Good, Indeed

More than forty Ohio coal dealers five years ago objected to the rates being charged them by one of the coal carrying railroads of the state on shipments from Ohio mines.

Their objections received no "substantial" consideration. They were compelled to pay the rates the railroad arbitrarily fixed and never was any portion of the sum paid, returned to them.

These forty dealers told their several and collective tales of woe to the Public Service Commission of the state and, after so long a time, succeeded in getting the ponderous machinery of the state government in motion.

Now, after five years of delays and contests the Public Utilities Commission has ordered the offending railroad to pay back to the dealers the sums the railroad overcharged them, with interest.

All of which proves if the private citizen has enough determination and lives long enough they may obtain relief through some of the state boards and commissions created and maintained, 'tis announced, to protect the interests of the private citizens.

Just why it should take five years for the machinery of the state to grind out of the coffers of the railroad company the money which it overcharged dealers is a little difficult to understand.

But compared with long established custom the dealers are to be congratulated on living to see the end of the fight and the commission is to be congratulated on reaching the end of a controversy begun by a few rather obstinate citizens of Ohio.

Poetry For Today

FIRELIGHT.

Against the curtained casement wind and sleet
Rattle and thresh, while snug by our own fire,
In dear companionship that naught may tire.
We sit—you listening, sewing in your seat,
Half-dreaming in the glow of light and heat,
I reading some old tale of love's desire
That swept on gold wings to disaster dire
Then rose resolute from black defeat
I close the book and louder yet the storm
Threshes without. Your busy hands are still;
And on your face and hair the light is warm,
As we sat gazing on the coal's red gleam
In a gold glow of happiness, and dream
Diviner dreams the years shall yet fulfill.

HOB NO NEARLY LOSES HIS FORTUNE BY FIRE

Vest Which Contained Life's Savings Was About to Go Into a Furnace.

Bedford, Pa.—Twelve thousand three hundred and six dollars, the savings of a lifetime, which Tony Colombo of the east side, New York, had sewed in his vest, were saved from a blazing furnace in a local hotel by a narrow margin.

George Regoveri, cellist in the orchestra at the hotel, while motoring noticed a hobo pick a piece of bread from the ground where a picnic had been held several days ago. Regoveri took the man in his car and carried him back to the hotel. In the servants' quarters he was bathed, given a new suit of clothing and then a meal. Later he started on his way to New York.

He had been gone only a short time when he returned hastily, crying that his savings of a lifetime were sewed in the old vest, which he had discarded and which the management of the hotel had ordered consigned to the furnace. A hasty search was made and the money was found, as Colombo said.

WILL PULL AWAY IN OCTOBER

Ohio Guardsmen on Border May Soon Be Relieved.

RETURN TO CAMP WILLIS

American and Mexican Commissioners Expected to Effect a Peaceful Solution of Border Problems, in Which Event the Militia Will Be Sent Back to Mobilization Camps. Deserters Arrested.

Washington, Sept. 6.—It is the general expectation among officials of the war department that all of the militia organizations on the Mexican border, including the Ohio national guard, will be sent back to their home stations by the middle of October.

A great deal depends on the conference between commissioners representing the United States and Mexico, who are trying to work out a solution of the trouble that vexes the two countries. If they arrive at a peaceable solution that is broad in scope and covers the problem of protecting the border from invasions, as such a solution no doubt will do, it is expected at the war department that an order will be issued sending all the militiamen back to their mobilization points, which would leave only the regular army on the border. In that event, the militiamen probably will not be discharged immediately, but will be held in their state camps for military practice and also to await any possible flare-up.

On the eve of the adjournment of congress the war department is over run with senators and representatives seeking information in regard to the possible withdrawal of the national guard troops from the Mexican border before election. The senators and representatives gain the impression, so they say, that it is plainly the hope and expectation of the department that the national guard forces shall be brought back to their home stations in October.

SCANDAL AGAIN

Columbus, Sept. 6.—Thirty-two members of the First ambulance corps, Ohio national guard, of Toledo, under command of Captain Dale Wilson, are locked in the city jail, following their desertion from Upper Arlington camp, because, as they charge, they were not being treated right in the kind of food given them.

Fifty-one men, including all the non-commissioned officers, except a top sergeant and duty sergeant, who were absent, broke away from camp and started on a foraging trip. They went to Olentangy park, where, it is alleged, they forced entrance to two buildings and made way with three cases of soft drinks.

Then the men continued their expedition along the river, south of the park, begging back-door handouts and helping themselves to garden truck, it is said. They entered one farmer's potato patch and proceeded to take large quantities of the luscious fruit, but the soldiers accepted his bargain to give them a bushel of tomatoes if they would leave his premises.

They were in a field eating the tomatoes when a squad of Cleveland Greys, now doing provost duty under Captain Connelly, appeared to take them in custody. All except eighteen, who escaped, were committed to the city prison.

MURDER CHARGE

(By American Press)

Cleveland, Sept. 6.—The sequel to the riot among a trainload of strikebreakers on the New York Central railroad Labor day was written when two men, held on murder charges for the killing of an unidentified man, were bound over to the grand jury without bail by Judge Phillips.

'NOTHER OBJECTING

(By American Press)

Columbus, Sept. 6.—The local chamber of commerce filed suit today to enjoin State Auditor Donahue from paying $225,000 for the Wyandotte building for a state office building. The claim is made that the state can not properly satisfy its large needs for additional space without constructing a new building properly located.

TAKE NUT HARVEST

(By American Press)

Berlin, Sept. 6.—The central food commission has prohibited the picking of green nuts, which formerly were used in large quantities for preserves in Germany. No nuts are to be gathered until they are completely ripe and yield oil. The nut harvest, which is estimated at several thousand tons, may be seized by the government.

Aged Woman Drives Auto.

Danville, Ill.—Sarah Hewitt, aged eighty-three, drove to Danville from her home, eight miles away, in her eighty horsepower roadster. "I can keep pace with the world, do my share of the work and enjoy my share of the pleasures with the rest of them, though I am nearly a quarter of a century past the age when, Dr. Oster said, folks should be chloroformed and killed," she declared. She handled her powerful car with ease and skill. "And I covered the distance in twenty minutes, which half a century ago would have taken an hour or more of jolting riding," she said.

Woman Ropes Alligator.

Wharton, Tex.—Mrs. Will Hendricks is receiving the congratulations of her friends over having captured alive a large alligator. One evening recently she noticed the alligator trying to climb the hog wire fence of the L. O. Ireson pasture, and she ran home and brought rope with which she lassoed the reptile and tied it to a post. Those who were attracted to the spot to view the catch stated that the alligator was over six feet long and that it fought desperately to make its escape.

Could Not Do Her Cooking.

Mrs. F. E. Hartmeister, Tea, Mo., writes: "I was affected with kidney trouble for two years. I got so bad this summer I could hardly do my cooking. I got Foley Kidney Pills and I feel like a new person." Too many women neglect symptoms of kidney derangement, weak back, swollen ankles and joints, aches, pains and rheumatism. Blackmer & Tanquary.

CONSTABLE BACK THROWN IN JAIL TO AWAIT TRIAL

Constable J. Albert Smith, more familiarly known as "Rabbit," is back. Incidentally he is now in jail.

It will be recalled that Smith, some two weeks ago, suddenly disappeared at the hour of trial on a charge of brutally beating a dog which he had been paid to dispose of in the proper manner, and leaving it for dead in an ally back of Withrow's grocery, on Market street.

At that time a capias was issued for his apprehension, but no effort was made to locate him and nothing had been heard from the fugitive until Tuesday of this week when Mayor Oster received a letter from Smith in which he stated that he would appear for trial not later than nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

Wednesday morning he showed up at the Mayor's office at seven o'clock and Patrolman Bell phoned Mayor Oster what he should do with Smith. "Place the Rabbit in cage" were the prompt instructions and Smith was locked up until his trial can be arranged for. Meanwhile a charge of contempt of court will be one of the things he will face.

In his letter Smith said that he did not have money with which to employ an attorney, and would defend himself. That he left on the D. T. & I. the morning of the trial, went to Springfield and thence to Dayton. "But a man must eat" was a significant sentence in the letter.

His letter was worded in a manner calculated to appeal to the Mayor—and it did. Smith's trial will be held within a day or two.

FALSE REPORT IS PLACED ON BOARD

Some unknown person, without authority, Monday evening posted a false bulletin upon The Herald Bulletin board, purporting to be report of the Cincinnati races and stating that Resta was killed in the 73rd lap and DePalma had neck broken and died.

No such bulletin was received by The Herald and the person posting such information did so without authority and without the knowledge of The Herald.

As the law provides punishment such an act, a repetition of the offense will be vigorously prosecuted, if the identity of the party is ascertained.

PETITION FILED FOR COUNTY DITCH

A petition for a county ditch in Wayne and Union townships was filed with the county commissioners Tuesday, and a hearing set for September 28th, at nine o'clock.

Those petitioning for the ditch are: Frank C. Miller, Frank Gilmer, J. N. Riley, C. D. Overstake, Mary C. Gilmer, E. A. McCoy. The ditch has its source on the lands of E. H. Edwards.

CALLS FROM WYOMING TO HAVE CAR TUNED

One week ago last Thursday a stranger drove a big National Roadster into the Cox garage in this city, and with the brief information that he desired to leave there a couple of days and was in a hurry to catch a train, left.

Nothing more was heard of the man until Tuesday night, when a long distance call came into the garage from Laramie, Wyoming, and the man who had left the car here stated that he would be in after it within the next three or four days, and asked to have the car "tuned up" and ready.

He was assured that the car would be ready and the conversation, which was conducted with as much ease as if the man had been in an adjoining town, came to an end.

The man had called approximately 1400 miles to order his car "tuned."

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT ESTABLISHES RECORD

The total enrollment of the Washington schools on the opening day was 1357, or the greatest number ever enrolled on the opening day.

The high school enrollment is 282, or greater than the enrollment at any time last year.

The schools have settled down to real business and everything is moving like clock-work in the various school buildings of the city. Miss Gertrude Fowler, of Union City, Indiana, a graduate of the Chicago University, is the new teacher of Mathematics in the high school.

Following is a complete list of teachers of the Washington high school; O. K. Probasco, principal; Miss Amy V. Conn, English, American Literature; Miss Clara Thurs-ton, first and second year English; Mrs. Haidee Coffman, History; Miss Helen Jones, German and Algebra; Miss Beulah Harbison, Latin; Miss Mabel Houp, Commercial; Chancery E. Plyley, Physics and Chemistry; Miss Irene Van Hyning, Domestic Science; Miss Elizabeth Sheen, Music; Miss Marie Grove, Art.

COLLINS BOY IS BACK WITH PARENTS

William Collins, sixteen year old youth who was arrested in this city for endeavoring to pass a worthless check, has been released from custody and turned over to his parents, Tuesday afternoon, after the parents had pleaded hard for his release, and stated that the boy's crime had probably been the result of injuries to his head received years ago.

The young man is to be placed under the supervision of the Probate Court of Greene county, and if he does not toe the chalk line he will be dealt with accordingly.

From Xenia it was learned that he had been in trouble a number of times in that city.

WANTS DIVORCE AND PROPER ALIMONY

Alta May Lindsey, in common pleas court, asks that she be divorced from John Lindsey, whom she married Feb. 3, 1913.

Plaintiff, represented by Rankin and Rankin, also asks that she be decreed alimony, and restored to her maiden name of Crooks.

Plaintiff accuses defendant of being wilfully absent for the past three years, and that he refused and failed to provide a proper home for her.

LEASE ON LIVERY BARN CONTINUES

The building occupied by the Brown Livery business, corner Market and Fayette streets, while changing hands recently and announcement being made that a garage would be opened there, is under lease by Mr. Brown until May 30, 1918, and unless present plans are changed he will continue to conduct the livery barn until the lease expires.

EAST END SEWER WILL BE BUILT

Commissioners Approve Engineer's Plans and Specifications and Ditch Will Be Sold September 23—Will Be Complete New Sewer.

At the Tuesday session of the county commissioners the engineer's report on the East End Ditch was accepted and the ditch ordered sold on September 23rd, so that the sewer will be constructed this fall and hundreds of citizens in that part of the city will find relief from the annoyance of water in cellars, yards and washing across streets.

The new sewer is to be 18 inches and will be independent of the present sewer which has been the cause of so much annoyance. The sewer, or rather "county ditch" will start at Paint creek near Elm street, and extend up through the east end of the city and connect with a ditch at a point just above the B. & O. railroad, north of the Lewis pike, and when the ditch is once constructed it is expected to solve the problem of drainage for all time, in that part of the city.

The sewer constructed by the city receives what it can carry of an open ditch, and as a result has become clogged and is in anything else but good condition.

As the county turns a large volume of water loose just north of that part of the city, it was necessary to take care of it, and this is being done. Part of the ditch or sewer is to be paid for by the city.

PICTURE AGENTS CAUSE ANNOYANCE

Various citizens in the county have made complaint of agents who have appeared, seeking pictures to enlarge, and, under the pretext of giving free $5 on an order, allow some member of a family to draw from several slips held in the agent's hand, and usually the agent permits a child to draw the "lucky number" and invariably obtains the order for enlargement.

A different agent delivers the finished picture, pretends he does not know about the five dollars credit, collects a fee usually exorbitant, and departs, leaving his customer "stung" to the tune of many dollars.

LITTLE CHOLERA IN THIS COUNTY

Veterinarians report that at the present time the swine plague, cholera, which last year lost Fayette county farmers between $30,000 and $45,000, has been almost wiped out of most parts of the county, and very little of the disease exists.

The number of swine in Fayette county is unusually large this year and the farmers are greatly pleased over the small amount of disease.

JURIES TO BE DRAWN TOMORROW

The Grand and Petit juries for the October term of court will be drawn Thursday morning.

Indications are the October term of court will be a busy one.

ASKS $3000 FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT

Damages of $3,000 are claimed by Harley De Long, as the result of being taken into custody by B. & O. police on August 28, 1916, and kept in the city prison for a short time. De Long, who filed his damage suit in Common Pleas court alleges that he was roughly treated and wrongly imprisoned.

The petition states that B. & O. Police Manss, Phillips, Kennedy and Kramer arrested the plaintiff on Aug. 28 and that in so doing they injured him about the neck. At that time he was peacefully standing on the platform at the depot, awaiting a train to Greenfield. He was taken to the police station where he was retained for about four and one-half hours.

C. B. Rais for the plaintiff.—

ARGUE MOTION IN SUIT FOR RECEIVER

A motion to dismiss the action recently filed by Bartley Mallow against John Green and Harry Hill, in which the plaintiff asked judgment in the sum of $7,000, and that a receiver be appointed for the Harry Hill Wild West show, was argued before Judge Cyrus Newby, in common pleas court, Wednesday afternoon, with Gregg, Patton & Gregg and F. A. Chaffin representing defendants and John Logan representing the plaintiff.

Before argument was completed the case was adjourned until next Monday, when it will be resumed.

Several witnesses have been subpoenaed to testify in the case.

PARTITION SUIT IN COMMON PLEAS

In the court of common pleas James B. Harris has filed suit for the partition of 79.35 acres in Union township, making Sarah E. Harris and a score of others defendants, including both attorneys for the plaintiff, Rankin and Rankin.

Plaintiff claims the undivided one seventh of the land.

CITY WILL GET ABOUT $75,000; WANTS $125,000

Budget Commission to Meet The City Officials Tomorrow In Effort to Properly Apportion Funds—City to Receive About $15,000 Outside of Sinking Fund.

A very interesting meeting will be held at the County Commissioners' office at two o'clock Thursday afternoon, when the Budget Commission consisting of County Auditor Pine, County Treasurer Duff and Prosecutor Maddox, will meet the city officials and endeavor to make $75,000 do the work of $125,000 in this city.

The city has asked for $75,000 and the School Board for $50,000, but it will be impossible to meet either demand by a great many thousands of dollars, and as the city is now being taxed to the limit under the famous Smith One Per Cent law, the tax rate cannot be increased, and the result will be that the city will feel keenly the scarcity between the actual needs of the city and what will be allowed.

For the entire year the city will receive approximately $43,000 of the total amount, it is expected, and of this amount $28,000 must go into the sinking fund for principal and interest on bonds.

It will be seen by this that only $15,000 will remain with which to conduct the affairs of the city during the fiscal year.

HEAVY RAINS DO MUCH DAMAGE

Heavy rains in and near Dayton

At the same time a terrific storm swept over northwestern Fayette, doing some damage.

The funeral services of Mr. James R. Mills, well known retired farmer of Fayette county, were impressively conducted by Rev. A. S. Davidson, of the West Holland circuit, at the Good Hope M. E. church, Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock.

A number of friends had gathered at the residence on Circle Avenue to accompany the family to Good Hope and a long procession of autos followed the funeral car.

Friends carried into the church beautiful flowers, the farewell remembrance of relatives and friends.

Before leaving the residence Rev. Davidson read the scripture and Rev. J. Vernon Stone offered prayer.

Rev. Stone and Rev. Charles L. Pfaltzgraf, of Good Hope, assisted at the church, where there was a large assemblage, the older farmers and business men of this section specially well represented.

Rev. Davidson delivered an excellent sermon and read the memoir and the church quartet furnished the music.

OBITUARY.

James R. Mills was born in the state of Maryland, July 12, 1831, and died at Washington C. H., Ohio, September 1st, 1916, aged 85 years and 20 days.

When a small child, he, with the rest of his immediate family, moved from their Maryland home and settled in Perry county, Ohio. When a mere boy he knelt at the Methodist altar during a camp meeting, finding peace and joy in his Savior. He soon united with Friendship M. E. church, Perry county, where his membership remained until he became a resident of Fayette county, when he transferred his membership to Camp Grove M. E. church.

On Feb. 10, 1853 he was united in marriage to Catherine Grimes, who after many years of congenial and loving fellowship was called to the heavenly land.

On December 5, 1902 he was united in marriage to Angeline Knipe, who survives to mourn the loss of him who to her was a kind and loving husband and who to her children was a most kind and considerate friend.

Mr. Mills was never blessed with children of his own, but 49 years ago he took into his home a little girl, Angeline Hiles, now Mrs. Bell, who lived in the Mills home and on the Mills farm for 46 years.

In the death of Mr. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Bell have lost a true friend who was as a father to them.

He was one of a family of nine brothers and sisters, all of whom have now departed this life, so that the nearest relatives are the nephews and nieces.

Mr. Mills was always a man of strictest integrity, honest and honorable in all his dealings with others. His life was one of constant activity.

During the long sickness which preceded his death he exhibited remarkable patience as well as much hope and faith in God.

Upon one occasion during his illness he was heard humming an old

tune and being asked if he knew what the tune was, said:

"Jesus my all to heaven has gone."

During his sickness his pastor visited him quite often and more than once questioned him in regard to his relationship with God, and Mr. Mills made it plain that while not anxious to leave this world, yet his trust was in his Savior.

Dawn After Darkness.

Rev. W. S. Gray.

The feet grow weary with the years;
The eyes grow dim in twilight shades;

The day is passing, night appears,
And shadows grow as daylight fades

Toward the West.

The weary eyes are closed at last;
The hands are folded on the breast,

The labors of the day are past,
The Father gently whispers,

"Rest!"—

And this is best.

Past is the toil, past is the strife;
No cloud is seen upon the brow;

These all belong to earthly life,
And that has ceased forever now;

The race is run.

The woes of life are left behind,
Its fears and ills no more affright;

No place for worries here we find;
Rest comes to tired ones at night,

And peace is won.

Tis morning on the other shore;
Bright on the hills its beauty glows;

Clouds, shadows, storms, are felt no more,

And darkness flees with all its woes

In that bright clime.

A night of labor speeds away,

A night of sorrow flees apace;

A night of pain here loses sway,

A morn of blessedness and grace

Takes place of time.

Eternal morning comes at last,

The dayspring rises on the scene;

The night, with all its terrors past,

Brings in the dawning fair, serene.

Where glories come.

'Tis morning! angels' voices sing,

And heaven's doors swing open wide;

And loudly through its arches ring

A welcome from the other side—

A soul finds home.

In Social Circles

A charming affair of Tuesday afternoon was a tea given by Mrs. Carrie B. Willis, in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Jennie Shoultz, of Muskogee, Okla.

Sixty women thoroughly enjoyed the cordial hospitalities of the afternoon and the privilege of renewing acquaintance with the cultured honor guest, who has never ceased to be missed from the social and educational circles of Washington.

It had been planned to combine garden party features with the tea, but the rain drove the guests from the beautiful lawn indoors, where they found no less attraction in the artistic arrangement of autumn flowers. Bowls of fall roses, and marigolds and jardineries of graceful goldenrod were effectively placed, while occupying the center of the tea table was a big basket of marigolds, the handle tied with large gauze bow.

Presiding at the tea table were: Mrs. Frank M. Kennedy and Mrs. Willard Willis. Also assisting were Mrs. R. O. Young, Mrs. C. Graham Beckel, Misses Lina and Carrie Willis and Miss Jean Fitzgerald.

SENATE STRIKES AT BLACKLIST

Revenue Measure Provides Means of Retaliation.

IS AIMED AT THE ALLIES

Fight Against the Section Creating a Tariff Commission Led by Senator Underwood Proves Futile—Measure Imposes Special Taxes On Inheritances and Munitions—Bill Passes by a Vote of 42 to 16.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The senate amended and passed the revenue bill by a vote of 42 to 16. The measure is designed to raise $205,000,000 annually. It establishes a protective tariff on dyestuffs.

Drastic amendments striking at the allied blacklist and British interference with American mails, were adopted.

An amendment of Senator Phelan of California was adopted authorizing the president by proclamation to deny the use of the mails, express, telegraph, wireless or cable facilities to citizens of nations which do not accord to Americans all facilities of commerce, "including the unhampered traffic in the mails." This amendment, it was declared, was aimed particularly at British interference with American mails.

Another amendment withdraws clearance to foreign or domestic vessels from American ports which give "any undue or unreasonable performance or advantage in any respect whatsoever to any particular person, company or corporation, or any particular description of traffic in the United States or its possessions to the citizens of the United States residing in neutral countries abroad," or in subjecting any of them to "any undue or unreasonable prejudice, disadvantage, injury or discrimination in regard to accepting, receiving, transporting or delivering, or refusing to accept or receive, transport or deliver any cargo, freight or passengers."

Senator Underwood led a futile attack on the section of the revenue bill creating a tariff commission.

A section of the bill is designed as a safeguard against the dumping of foreign goods into the United States at cheap prices after the war.

Senator Martine offered an amendment, which was defeated, to place all print paper on the free list.

The bill as finally agreed upon provides for an increase from 1 to 2 per cent on the normal income tax, with an exemption of $4,000 for married and $3,000 for single persons. The bill imposes special taxes on inheritances and on the profits of manufacturers of munitions.

Special taxes are also imposed on liquors, profits of corporations, brokers, theaters, tobacco and bonds.

WANT MORE

(By American Press)

Denver, Colo., Sept. 6.—The most enormous demand for nickels and pennies ever known is now deluging the United States treasury department, and the mint in Denver is breaking all records for activity in manufacturing those coins. The mint is working day and night and Sundays. There is every indication that the rush will continue three months. At present the Denver mint is making only nickels and pennies. Each day it turns out $10,000 in nickels and $2,000 in pennies. These coins are shipped east at intervals. If the present activity is continued three months—as Superintendent Thomas Annear says undoubtedly it will—the Denver mint will have coined $900,000 in nickels and $180,000 in pennies, a total of $1,080,000 of small coins. This would amount to 36,000,000 individual coins. The Denver officials say the demand for coins of the smaller values is confined almost wholly to periods of great prosperity in the east.

On St. Paul's Island there are 2,948 harems and 2,278 idle bulls, an increase of about 30 per cent over last year.

GLORIA'S ROMANCE

By Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes

Novelized from the Motion Picture Play of the same name by George Kleine.

SYNOPSIS.

Pierpoint Stafford, banker and railroad magnate, with his sixteen-year-old daughter, Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. She steals from her room at night and in an auto plunges into the surf where she leaves the car. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. She is rescued and returned to her father who had offered a reward for her return. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Freneau. Five years later she leaves school and meets Freneau at the theater; his attempt to win her acquaintance with her sister-in-law he has forgotten. Gloria feels that her one dream is shattered. Later Freneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lois, becomes intensely jealous and Doctor Royce discovers in her an ally to assist in thwarting Freneau. Doctor Royce warns Freneau that there is another woman besides Gloria. Freneau goes along with Gloria; her father's knowledge. It results in pneumonia for Gloria, whose family becomes incensed at Freneau when they learn the truth. Royce is summoned to alleviate Gloria's suffering.

Of course, Lois was guiltless, but perhaps she had been careless of appearances. It would be better to wait and rebuke the indiscretion when it occurred. He had been talking of a trip South to meet a board of railroad directors on which his father had placed him. It was not necessary for him to go. But he might pretend that it was, and tell Lois good-by, and pretend to leave, and then—. He dared not put the scheme into words. But he dared not let the chance go past to make sure.

She left Freneau in a mood of black rage and remorse. The quality of his remorse was shown in his meditations. He thought of the many women he had dealt with lightly, and he wondered if any more of them would rise to threaten his security as a son-in-law of Pierpoint Stafford.

That very day the most pitiful of his conquests appeared. Nell Trask had learned from a newspaper that her father had been knocked down by an automobile and taken to a hospital. She visited him there. His bodily injuries were not serious, but he was brooding so bitterly over Freneau that Nell began to fear for his reason. He told her that he had seen Freneau and had denounced him, and Freneau had struck him in the face. Old Trask was bemoaning to avenge it. He whispered to Nell that he would reach Freneau yet and strangle him like a dog. She feared both for her own father and for the father of her dead child. She thought of writing Freneau to warn him, but that might only lead him to persecute her father. Perhaps if she begged him to marry her, he would be rich enough now. She found out Freneau's address with little difficulty, and appeared at his door soon after Lois had left him, in an ugly mood. The apparition now of so humble an incident in his past as the daughter of a bargeman was too disgusting to endure.

When the valet opened Freneau's door, Nell slipped past him and ran straight to Freneau. He could not even pretend the ordinary courtesies. He would not listen to her. He ordered his valet to bundle her out and to take his own two weeks' notice.

Nell had no more fight in her than a violet. Like a violet, she bloomed to be trodden on or plucked for a moment and tossed aside. She drifted back to the shabby barge moored at the dock and waited for her father to return "home."

Freneau, raging and calling himself a fool, drove his arms into the overcoat his man held for him and left for his office, wondering whether he was to be compelled to close up the office because of the follies he had committed. He agreed that flirtation was a poor business.

All this while Gloria lay in her bed by the window imagining that Freneau was pining away for her, while she was getting well as fast as she could for him. Doctor Royce's treatment consisted mainly in keeping out of the way of nature, helping it, but not impeding it with drugs. Gloria was responding with all the rush of youth. He was glad of his success as a physician, but he was miserable over her eagerness to get back to her romance. Once, while he watched her as she slept, he saw that she smiled. He was afraid that he knew why. When her eyes opened and stared about her room and at him in bewilderment, he understood that she had come out of the dream realm.

"Oh, such a wonderful dream I've had. I dreamed I was well—all of a sudden I hopped out of bed, and—presently, my clothes were on without all the trouble of buttons and hooks and eyes, and I floated through the wall and over the roofs and climbed down the chimney of Dick's apartment house like a regular Santa Claus.

"Then I came out through the steam radiator without even rumpling my frock, and there I found Dick so lonely and forlorn as never was. When he saw me he nearly expired of joy.

"Then I took him by the hand and floated with him through the wall and across the roof to the darlings little church. The darlings little minister floated through the pulpit and then—dog on it—I had to go and wake up. But wasn't it a beautiful dream?"

"Beautiful," groaned Doctor Royce. She was too happy to hear the sorrow in his voice. She merely exclaimed: "Hurry up, for heaven's sake, and get me well."

And, like a dutiful young physician, he promised. But he wondered whether it was kindness or not to restore her to the world where dreams do not often come true—unless they are bad dreams.

CROWDS GREET

(By American Press)

Cincinnati, Sept. 6.—Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for president, addressed a large audience here last night on issues of the campaign. He sharply attacked the Democratic administration.

In speech at Lexington, Ky., the nominee condemned "legislation in advance of investigation" and declared that the United States "had gone very far toward the day when we shall have action under pressure, instead of in consideration of the facts."

Mr. Hughes' declaration was loudly applauded. The nominee did not refer by name to the Adamson law, but his remarks were interpreted by many in the audience as applying to it.

"We have a new spirit abroad in these recent days in America," Mr. Hughes said. "It is the spirit that demands legislation in advance of investigation. It is the spirit that demands executive action and congressional action in advance of an examination of the facts upon which said action should be based."

An Odd Globe.

A great globe ornamented with the map of the earth carved in stone decorates the estate of an eccentric Englishman at Swanage. It stands overlooking the sea and is visible for quite a distance. One may walk about it and study it in detail. The plane surfaces, such as the oceans, lakes and deserts, are decorated with scriptural texts which are supposed to apply especially to the locality they occupy.

Carlyle and His Pipe.

Carlyle smoked often and complained much of dyspepsia. A friend once ventured to suggest that his smoking might perhaps injure and depress him. "Yes," Carlyle said, "and the doctors told me the same thing. I left off smoking and was very miserable, so I took to it again and was very miserable still, but I thought it better to smoke and be miserable than to go without."

MAN AND FISH COLLIDE; BOTH HEADS DENTED

Ambulance Takes Them to the Hospital Together.

Ridgway, Pa.—Patrick Deering was carried in an ambulance to hospital recently, while by his side lay the cause of his troubles, the biggest trout ever seen in this vicinity. Pat was in sore need of treatment for a dent in his head, while his companion in distress, the trout, was to be treated as food for the hospital patients.

Patrick while diving in Laurel mill pool collided with the big trout. The fish, stunned by the blow, immediately rose to the surface and was captured by other swimmers. Pat, sorely hurt, was pulled from the water.

AN UNDERWORLD PALACE.

Wonderful Things to Be Seen in the Luray Caverns.

Halfway up the Shenandoah valley are the Luray caverns, an underworld palace built by the busy hands of trickling waters.

Aladdin, we are told, was once permitted to enter a cave which exhibited such decorations that its glory both dazzled and affrighted. But Aladdin never beheld anything more wondrously exquisite than the water built architecture of Luray.

The Throne room is canopied with curtains woven of diamonds and pearls. The Saracen tent has more than oriental splendors of richest damasks and golden samite, which drapes the crystal couch in festoons of magic beauty. Titania's veil is woven of petrified spiders' web, while the ballroom seems as if set to celebrate a marriage between the gods.

The visitor to Luray today shares the sentiment of another visitor of long ago who exclaimed, "Mortal hath not made the like nor human fancy conceived a thing more magnificent"—National Geographic Magazine.

GROCERY CLERKS BEGIN STRIKE

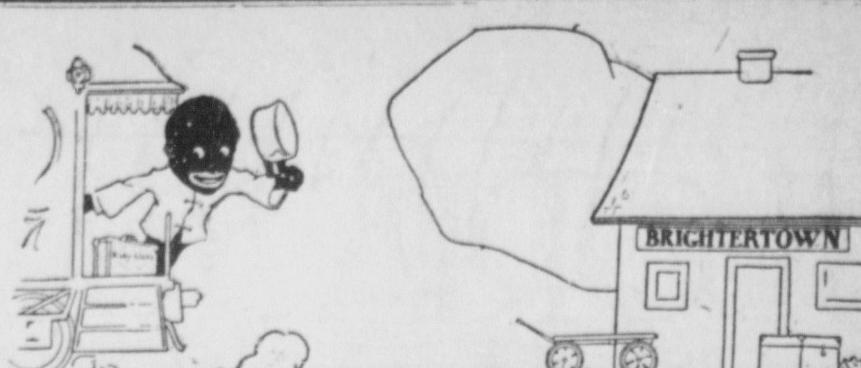

Three Thousand Helpers in New York Groceries Quit.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, September 6.—Three thousand grocery clerks went on a strike in this city, Jersey City, Newark and outlying towns today.

Leaders of the union, the Retail Clerks' International Protective Association, claimed that the number of strikers will be augmented to 6,000 within the next 24 hours.

The strike was voted last night, when owners of chains of stores refused the demands of the union for shorter hours, a minimum salary of $15 a week, and one per cent of the store receipts.

AVIATION COSTLY.

Society Folks Pay Dollar a Minute to Learn.

MUST BE RICH FOR GAME.

Many Aristocratic People of New York Are Taking to Flying, and Only They Can Stand Expense Under Present Conditions.

New York.—It costs a dollar a minute to get into our highest social circles since the aristocratic youth of Long Island and Yale, under the patronage of Mrs. Henry P. Davison, have taken up military aviation.

And not only that.

Society is taking a flying start toward the conquest of the air quite aside from the martial aspect of the case. The center of aerial activity is now at Fort Washington, on Manhattan bay.

The patrol is composed of some of the best known young men in society.

Pat was in sore need of treatment for a dent in his head, while his companion in distress, the trout, was to be treated as food for the hospital patients.

ADMIRAL PEARY ABOUT TO TAKE A FLIGHT

It is headed by Trubee Davison and takes in young Robert A. Lovett, whose father is the head of the Union Pacific road; John Vorys of Columbus, O., whose father was one of the best known political figures in the country; John W. Farwell, 3d, son of the Chicago millionaire; Albert Ditman of Englewood, Wesley Laud Brown of Englewood, Artemus L. Gates of Iowa; Earl Gould, son of the late Dr. Elgin R. L. Gould, and Allan Ames. There are a lot more to join, including H. P. Davison, Jr., who is now in France with the American ambulance, and W. F. Sullivan, who is a lieutenant in the British flying corps.

Trubee Davison was on the point of joining the American ambulance in France, too, when he was diverted to the service of this country by the very, very apparent need for aviators along the Mexican border. That showed him how much more good he could do by staying in this land of the free and preparing to uphold the flag in case of need.

John Hays Hammond, Jr., and Admiral Peary gave the notion a push, and the combined force prevailed upon the Davison family to sponsor the patrol.

For the course the boys pay $400 each, which is about a dollar a minute for the actual flying lessons. The buying of a machine and keeping it in repair and the like cost thousands of dollars.
